

Local Department

The third session of Mrs. Moore's Select School commences this morning. at her rooms, corner of Fifth and Cherry Streets. feb11-31w

Valentines.—Gus Arnold has still a large stock of beautiful sentimental and comic Valentines on hand. Remember the day, your duty and our friend. feb11-31w

Extensive Work.—On yesterday we received Public Documents, under the franks of Senator Bright and Hon. Owen Lovejoy, for which we thank them.

The steamer D. B. Campbell has, we learn, entered regularly upon the Wabash trade, and will ply regularly between this port and above and below. U. Showmaker is the agent.

Destruction of Sheep.—We learn that a number of dogs, made war upon a flock of sheep belonging to Richard Peck, yesterday morning, killing seven and wounding six. The killed and wounded were just equal to one half of the whole flock. Members of the State Legislature will please make a note of this when about to vote for the dog law.

The Hesperian and Moody Deal.—The Tuesday contain a three column report of the effort to fight a duel by these distinguished gentlemen, over a column of which consists of correspondence between the parties and their friends. We look upon the whole affair as a broad farce. The fact is duelling is about played out.

Guest for March.—The March number of this delectable Magazine is received, and is a perfect gem. Godfrey has, on a new feature. In addition to his double fashion plate, he has commenced issuing a panorama, so to speak, of the spring fashions—to be continued. Those who have not, should at once subscribe for this best of all lady's books.

We furnish it at $2, per annum.

Trap Shooting.—In consequence of the imperfect manner in which the report of the trap shooting on Tuesday was reported, in last evening's Journal, we have been requested to re-produce it correctly.

Conditions of the Match.—Single birds: Pigeons—eight shots each—21 yards rise—100 yards bound:

B. Ebbitt.....11101110-6
C. Kera.....11101110-5
M. D. Topping.....11101110-5
J. Reever.....11101110-6

We are under obligations to Representative McLean for list of the names of members of the House of Representatives, together with the county, postoffice address, profession, nativity, politics, boarding house, age (with some exceptions), time served in the Legislature, and the motives by which they indicate their feelings relative to the present state of the country. It contains, also, a list of the officers of the House and of the present State officers, with the above specifications excepting age. It is a valuable document for reference.

Railroad Collision.—A collision occurred, on Wednesday morning, on the Evansville & Crawfordville Railroad, below Vincennes, between two freight trains, by which one man, named Alfred Dexter, had one of his legs broken, and the train considerably damaged.

So far as we have been able to learn, the facts in the case are as follows: An extra freight train had left Vincennes following the regular train. The regular train being compelled to "kill time" in approaching a station, was running very slowly, which brought the two trains very close together before the engineers were aware of it.

The engineer of the extra instantly "whistled down brakes," but the men on the regular train mistaking the whistle for that of their own train put down their brakes, stopping the regular train, which was immediately run into by the extra, with results as above.

February 14th.
This day is sacred to St. Valentine. The old legend of the poets makes it the day on which the birds begin to mate. Mankind, from the songsters' instinct, are supposed to draw a lesson. Hence, on this day, has arisen the old custom of sending notes of love, and affection. To day, the humblest swain is presumed to have the privilege of pouring out his anonymous affection to the fairest lady of his acquaintance. The sentiment of the day is presumed to level all distinctions of caste or position. It is a day devoted to affection and admiration, and wherever this exists usage makes it proper to express it in complimentary terms. The old custom has been, of late years, sadly abused. In most places it has been discontinued. The day is now, too often, made the means of venting spite and petty malice in the way of improper or insulting mixtures. There is much beauty and gallantry about the old custom in its purity.

At Cost.
Jacob D. Early's Old Stand, Corner of 3d and Wabash Streets.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

DIED.

At his residence, three miles south of this city, of pneumonia, on yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, Mr. JAMES BAIRD, in the 57th year of his age.

The funeral will take place from the late residence of the deceased, on to-morrow (Friday) morning, at 11 o'clock. The friends of the family are requested to attend without further notice.

Mr. Baird was one of the old time residents of our city and county. For a whole generation he has lived among us. He has been largely known, throughout our valley, as a contractor upon public works. His life was one of uprightness. He leaves behind him an unblemished name, and a memory which will linger long with his friends and acquaintances.

I. O. O. F.—The members of Fort Harrison Lodge No. 157, I. O. O. F., are notified to meet at their lodge, on Friday morning at 8 1/2 o'clock, to attend the funeral of Brother James Baird, a deceased member of this lodge.

Members of Terre Haute Lodge No. 51, of Vigo Emancipation No. 17, and members of the Order, temporarily in the city are respectfully invited to join us in the performance of this melancholy duty.

By order of the Lodge,
S. HARTBERT, N. G.
L. GOODMAN, Sec'y.

F. & A. M.—The members of Terre Haute Lodge No. 13, of the F. & A. M., are hereby notified to meet at their hall, Friday morning, the 15th instant, at 9 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late lamented Bro. James Baird.

The members of Social Lodge No. 86, and alljourning and visiting brothers in good standing, are invited to join us in the last and rites to our deceased Brother.

Conveyances will be furnished for all not otherwise provided for. By order of Lodge,
S. B. SMITH, Sec'y.

FESTIVAL TO NIGHT.—Our readers should not forget or fail to attend the Festival to be given to night at National Hall for the benefit of the Sunday School Library, of the Baptist Church. We have been behind the scenes, and can assure our readers, it will be a delightful affair.

Coal! Coal!

THE undersigned has a few thousand tons of superior
HIGHLAND COAL,
Whiteash in large quantities, for the next thirty days. Orders left at Bartlett's Bookstore or C. A. Goodman's gunsmith shop, will receive prompt attention. A. C. COMBS.

Sale of Land Mortgaged to the School Fund.

NOTICE is hereby given that I will on Wednesday, the 28th day of February, A. D. 1881, offer for sale at the Court House in Terre Haute, Indiana, the following real estate, (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy principal, interest and charges, to-wit: The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twenty-four (24) township 10 N., range nine (9) west, the same having been mortgaged to the School Fund on the 23d day of October, A. D. 1874, by Stephen R. Littlejohn, to secure a loan from the same, and forfeited by the non-payment of principal and interest.
Amount due on said sale, $187.30. Cost of advertising to be added. R. E. ALLEN, Auctioneer, Terre Haute, Jan. 29, 91-453.

PRICES DOWN!

HAVE you yet secured a Diary for 1881, this year of remarkable events? If not, take my advice, go directly to HARTLETT'S get one at cost, and after treacherous memory has been lulled in her designs of forgetfulness by this aid call the inventor of Diaries blessed.
J. W. HARTLETT.

Valentines!

A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF VALENTINES, wholesale and retail, at J. W. HARTLETT'S.

Ladies Attention!

ON leaving my old stand and moving to the new, I did not entirely forget you, but, on the contrary, I have a greatly increased stock of articles in line, such as Shell, Rubber and Horn Trunk Combs, varying in prices from 50c to $1.00; Rubber and Wire Hair Pins, Bone and Wire Crochet Needles, Embroidery, Rubber Holes, and various other styles of Sewing—very attractive—Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Rubber Horn Riding Combs, India-Rubber Ink and Pencils, Paper, Puffs, Shells and Diaper Pins, Pocket Monies, (every variety) Card Cases, Tablets, Paper Knives, Cans, Traveling Bags, Red and Blue Pen-knives, (Plain and Ornate) Rubber Long Combs, and, in short, so many other convenient articles, I cannot step to mention. But if you will call on No. 101 you shall be convinced every attention.
J. W. HARTLETT.

Battle at Baltimore!

10,000 VOLUNTEERS WANTED!
FURNISHED CAROLINA AT
S. HARTMAN & CO'S
Headquarter Clothing House!

NOW we are offering our entire stock of Ready Made Clothing and Gent's Furnishing Goods.

At Cost.
Jacob D. Early's Old Stand, Corner of 3d and Wabash Streets.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

At Cost.
S. HARTMAN & CO.

TELEGRAPHIC

Dispatches by the Union Line.

Journey of the President Elect!

DEPARTURE FROM CINCINNATI.

Greetings by the Way.

PRESENT TO MRS. LINCOLN.

Demonstration at Columbus.

LINCOLN'S SPEECH.

Gov. Dennison's Levee.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 13.
A special train of three cars, under the charge of E. W. Woodward, Superintendent, left Cincinnati at 9 o'clock this morning. The admirable arrangements, on this road, was the subject of general remark. Among the guests was Larz Anderson, brother of Major Anderson. At Milford, Loveland, Miamiville, Morrow, Corwin, and London, the train stopped but a few minutes. Mr. Lincoln, bowing, shaking hands, and bidding farewell to large crowds at each place. At Morrow, Superintendent Woodward presented from the wife of the President of the Little Miami Road, a beautiful bouquet, to Mrs. Lincoln. At Xenia a very large concourse had assembled. Amid the firing of cannon and great enthusiasm, Mr. Lincoln addressed them from the rear car, reiterating what he had said before. He had no speech to make and no time to make it.

The train arrived here at two o'clock, amid the firing of cannon. The city is crowded with people. Under military escort, Mr. Lincoln arrived at the State Capitol, and visited Gov. Dennison in the Executive Room. After the introduction, they proceeded to the Joint Session of the Legislature in the Representative Hall, where the President-elect was welcomed by Lieutenant-Governor Kirk, in a short address, to which Mr. Lincoln responded as follows:

Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly.—It is true, as has been said by the President of the Senate, that very great responsibility rests upon me in the position to which the votes of the American people have called me. I am deeply sensible of the weighty responsibility. I cannot but know what you all know, that without a name, perhaps without a reason why I should have a name, there has devolved upon me a task such as did not rest even upon the Father of his Country, and so feeling I cannot but turn and look for the support, without which it will be impossible for me to perform that task. I turn then and look to the American people, and to that God who has never forsaken them.

Allusion has been made to the interest felt in relation to the policy of the new administration. On this subject, I have received from some a degree of credit for having kept silence, from others some depreciation. I still think I am right.

In the various prevailing events of the present, without a precedent which could enable us to judge by the past; it has seemed fitting that before speaking upon the difficulties of the country, I should have gained a view of the whole field; to be sure, after all, being at liberty to modify and change the course of policy as future events may make a change necessary. I have not maintained silence from any want of real anxiety. It is a good thing that there is no more than anxiety for there is nothing wrong. It is a consoling circumstance that when we look out, there is nothing that really hurts any body. We entertain different views upon political questions, but nobody is suffering anything. This is a most consoling circumstance, and from it we may conclude that all we want is time, patience and a reliance on that God who has never forsaken this people. Fellow citizens, what I have said, I have said altogether extemporaneously, and I now will come to a close.

After the speech 50th House adjourned. Mr. Lincoln made a few remarks to the crowd outside. Afterwards he received the citizens generally.

To the levee, this evening, at the House of Governor Dennison, to the President elect, members of the Legislature, Lincoln's suite, army and military officers, and others are invited.

Mr. Lincoln and family are the guests of Governor Dennison.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.

HOUSE.—The House opened with prayer by Chaplain Stecker, in which he said: "Bless the guiding Administration; may it close its labors in peace, without fear and violence and without any stain of blood. We pray for the incoming Administration, that they may rest on the President elect in his journey hitherward; that they may be around him at every step, and we pray that he may be peacefully and happily inaugurated, and afterwards, by pure, wise and prudent counsel, that he may administer the Government in such a manner as that they may be glorified, be advanced, and that our example of civil and religious liberty may be followed in all the world."

Mr. Sherman sent up the letter, to him, from the Secretary of the Treasury, again urging speedy measures in view of the pressing demands on the Treasury. Mr. Sherman, accordingly, reported a bill authorizing the President, in place of any part of the recent loan, to issue coupon loans of a denomination not exceeding $50, and bearing not exceeding six per cent. interest, and running twenty years, and apply such bonds at par to the credit of any who may receive them; the entire amount not to exceed that authorized by the recent loan act.

Mr. Sherman made an explanation showing the importance of the measure. Mr. Garnett opposed the bill, saying the speech of the President elect, at Indianapolis, indicated coercion, and the inauguration of a military despotism. [Suppressed hisses.]

Mr. Sherman moved a suspension of the rules.

SENATE.—The Senate entered.

The tellers and other officials took their stations, and after a short address by Vice President Breckinridge, he opened the different certificates which were read; the Secretary of the Senate taking a note of them. The reading of the vote of South Carolina caused good humored excitement. The reading of all the electoral votes having been completed, the tellers reported the result; whereupon, the Vice President rising, said: Abraham Lincoln of Illinois, having received a majority of the whole number of votes, is duly elected President of the United States for the four years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1861, and that Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, having received a majority of the whole electoral votes, is duly elected Vice President of the United States for the same time.

The Pacific Railroad Bill was postponed till to-morrow.

A committee was appointed in conjunction with the Senate, to wait on and notify the President elect of his election.

Mr. Hindman suggested that Gen. Scott be also informed that there was no further use of mercenaries around the Capitol.

Not in order.
The Senate was notified of the readiness of the House to have the electoral votes counted.

The Senate entered.

The tellers and other officials took their stations, and after a short address by Vice President Breckinridge, he opened the different certificates which were read; the Secretary of the Senate taking a note of them. The reading of the vote of South Carolina caused good humored excitement. The reading of all the electoral votes having been completed, the tellers reported the result; whereupon, the Vice President rising, said: Abraham Lincoln of Illinois, having received a majority of the whole number of votes, is duly elected President of the United States for the four years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1861, and that Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, having received a majority of the whole electoral votes, is duly elected Vice President of the United States for the same time.

The Pacific Railroad Bill was postponed till to-morrow.

A committee was appointed in conjunction with the Senate, to wait on and notify the President elect of his election.

Mr. Hindman suggested that Gen. Scott be also informed that there was no further use of mercenaries around the Capitol.

SENATE.—After the return of the Senate to their own chamber, Mr. Fessenden reported the Diplomatic Appropriation Bill, and asking for a Committee of Conference.

The bill to carry out the treaty with New Grenada was passed.

A committee was appointed to notify Messrs. Lincoln and Hamlin of their election.

The Tariff Bill came up.

Mr. Seward gave notice that he should move to amend that portion abolishing the warehouse system.

Mr. Simmons explained the amendment, when the bill was laid over.

The bill for the better organization of the Military of the District of Columbia came up. On motion of Lane it was re-committed.

The bill providing that no extra number of any documents be printed without a joint resolution of both Houses, passed.

Bigler reported the patent bill, recommending that the Senate concur in all the amendments of the House except one. Agreed to. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.

A strong police force was stationed in various parts of the Capitol, this morning. On the House side, and some parts of the building recently, opened to visitors, were closed, at an early hour. The Reporters Gallery of the Hall of Representatives and the passages, leading thereto, were densely crowded, in anticipation of the counting of the electoral votes for President and Vice President.

Lord Lyons, Chevalier Huleman and other foreign Ministers were among the spectators.

On no former occasion, was there ever a more animated and exciting scene.

Secretary Dix sent another letter to Mr. Sherman to day, saying it was indispensable that he should, to day, give notice for a loan of eight millions, in order that the Government may be in funds to meet indispensable payments, on the first proximo.

More than five million dollars of treasury notes have been redeemed out of the current revenues. About two millions more fall due the 4th of March, making nearly the eight millions needed to meet the public wants before that day. More than one third of the revenues derived from customs is paid in treasury notes due at a future day; and the present embarrassment of the Treasury arises from the operation of a paper resolution, which compels the Government to anticipate the payment of its debts, out of its current funds. As he has decided to issue notes of a public loan, he asks that the bill reported, yesterday, may not be acted on.

Ex-Secretary Floyd publishes a statement that the report of the Committee of the House is an elaborate arraignment of his official conduct upon expert testimony taken in secret in his absence. It is a laborious attempt by innuendo, and by means of circumstances in the absence of proof to fix upon him some unexpected complicity with a robbery, of which he had no knowledge until about the time it was publicly disclosed. He promises to meet the report of the Committee with a full response.

There is no truth in the statement that Floyd and his counsel have pleaded the act of 1857 in bar of the prosecution pending against him.

Owing to apprehensions of a conspiracy for the purpose of seizing the public buildings, they have been privately guarded, though not in large force, for some weeks. Blowing up the Capitol was regarded as not improbable, hence every night a thorough examination of its cellars and vaults was made by the Capitol Police. To-day the officers of artillery were on duty for the purpose of immediately communicating with Congress should an attempt be made to attack the Capitol, and military forces were ready to advance at a moment's warning. Nothing was visible to excite the least apprehension, and perfect good order was preserved.

Gov. Hicks, of Md., was examined to-day by the Special Committee. His belief that a conspiracy existed in connection with the Capitol, was caused by an anonymous letter and newspaper articles; and that such combinations did not exist in Maryland, but other Southern States; and that in the beginning of January he was satisfied that there were existing organizations with a view of illegal interference with the federal authorities and the seizure of public property. But for some time past he was satisfied that they were abandoned.

The special committee are unanimously of opinion that whatever combinations or intent existed at an earlier period, that, for the last six weeks, there has been no appearance or vestige of an organization for a hostile attempt on Washington, or the public property there.

Hon. John C. Wright, of Cincinnati, died this afternoon, of pneumonia. His remains will be taken to the Relay House to await the arrival of friends.

The Engineer Department has sent to Congress modified estimates for armament, all except Forts Calhoun, in Virginia, Taylor and Jefferson. It is added that $15,000 each, for the two latter, can be applied, to advantage, within the next fiscal year, to prepare them to serve particularly, at least, as naval depots in the Gulf.

The Gaines case was before the Supreme Court to-day.

The Secretary of the Treasury has advertised for proposals till the 23d inst., for the eight million loan, under the late act. Those successful must deposit on or before the first of March.

Flood in the Hudson!
GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY!
ALBANY INUNDED!

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 13.
The ice commenced running in the river about a quarter past eight this morning. The break up was sudden, and attended by a noise almost like thunder. Within twenty minutes after it started, the water rose four feet, and has been rising ever since, until the present time (half past ten) the rise is about seven or eight feet.

The destruction of property is large, and the damage is roughly estimated at $60,000.

February 13—Evening.
The water has continued to rise slowly, to day, until the entire business portion of the city, east of Broadway, is inundated. Business is wholly suspended. The water in several streets, running parallel with the river, in the northern section of the city, is several feet deep, and many families have been driven to a hasty retreat. In a number of instances, families have been obliged, at last, to remove by means of boats, from second story windows.

South Broadway, from near the Atlas and Argus office, down to the steamboat landing, is navigable by boats.

The Mansion House, late Commercial Hotel, is entirely surrounded by water. When the ice went out two men had a narrow escape. They saw the destruction of the ice when in the middle of the river, and ran for Hamilton Street Bridge. On reaching there they were overtaken by the flood and swept off. They got on a large cake of ice, formed from a skating park, on that part of the river, and were carried down, but ran against the South Ferry Ship, and were rescued by means of ropes.

No description can convey a correct idea of the extent of the destruction.

Steamboats and canal boats were jammed together in a promiscuous heap. The river bridges are all, more or less, injured. The basements and cellars of all the buildings, for some distance west of Broadway, are filled with water. There is at present no signs of a fall.

FROM COLUMBUS.
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 13.

Mr. Lincoln received a dispatch, at 5 p. m., from Washington, saying: "The votes were counted peacefully. You are elected."

He received it with his usual equanimity. It causes much rejoicing among his friends.

Gov. Dennison's reception is a brilliant affair.

The President elect leaves here at 7 1/2 o'clock to-morrow morning.

FROM ST. LOUIS.
St. Louis, Feb. 13.

Yesterday morning the steamer Sunshine picked up a snag at Kaskaskia Bend, which, passing through her guard, burst a steam pipe, and several persons in the vicinity were severely scalded. Two deck hands have since died.

FROM ALABAMA.
MONTGOMERY, Feb. 12.

The standing commissioners announced in Congress a dispatch received from Louisiana approving the election of Davis and Stephens.

A resolution was offered continuing custom officers in office.

A resolution was offered that, as soon as the President is inaugurated, commissioners be sent to the government of the United States.

During the secret session, resolutions passed taking charge of all questions on difficulties now existing between the sovereign States of this Confederacy and the United States, relating to the occupation of Forts, Armories, Navy Yards, and other public establishments, and the President was directed to communicate this resolution to governors of the States.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.
RALEIGH, Feb. 12.

The Senate rejected and then reconsidered the bill amending the Constitution, concerning ad valorem taxation.

The Georgia commissioners have a formal reception, to-morrow.

Federal matters very calm.

FROM NEW YORK.
New York, Feb. 13.

The steamer Desoto, from Havana, has arrived at 12:30.

A fire at 8 o'clock last night destroyed the flooring mill owned by Johnson, Cook & Co., with its contents. Loss $100,000, on the mill, and $40,000 on grain. Insured for $18,000. The fire is supposed to have originated from friction of the machinery. The distillery, adjoining, was saved.

A FIRE.
PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 13.

Block 33 and 37, Commercial street, occupied by Sherman, Hall and others, with a large stock of Teas, Tobacco, &c., were destroyed by fire this morning. Loss not estimated.

FROM RICHMOND.
RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 13.

The Convention met at the Capitol, John Janney, of London, was elected President and made a Union speech, but said Virginia would insist on her rights as a condition to remaining in the Confederacy.

FROM NASHUA.
NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 13.

The thaw has caused a freshet in Congdon River, piling the ice and water to a great depth on the Railroad track between here and Wilton, stopping the passage of all trains.

FROM NEW YORK.
New York, Feb. 13.

Three boxes of ammunition, one containing two thousand boxes of percussion caps, the other five thousand cartridges with ball attaches, designed for Minie Rifles, were seized by the Police on board the Steamer Hemmerville, and destined for Savannah.

Hugh Ward, attempted to murder his wife on tenth Avenue this morning, and then shot himself. Both will probably die.

FROM THE PLAINS.
INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Feb. 13.

The New Mexican mail from Pawnee Fork, arrived this morning.

Nothing had been heard from the incoming mail, which should have connected with the one at Pawnee Fork.

The snow has all disappeared from the Plains and left the roads almost impassible.

THE MARKETS.
New York, Feb. 13.

Cotton heavy and in favor of buyers; sales 1800 bales at 11 1/2 @ 11 3/4 for middle uplands.